An Important Message from our Executive Director Sandy Pickert

Demand for the Pure & Simple Choice curriculum is high and funds are low! The current 2010-11 school year budgets were set long before Pure & Simple Health Education was notified that federal grant funding would end. Hundreds of area youth in schools, faith-based and community organizations are hoping to receive Pure & Simple education this year, but won't unless supporters step forward with donations in a generous way. Are you, your organization, or your business or place of employment willing to help Pure & Simple Health Education, Inc. continue providing services to our youth to empower them make healthier life choices? The average cost is $50 per teen participant to provide 8 episodes of the Pure & Simple Choice curriculum (including materials) and a Pure & Simple Parenting class for the host site. Would you consider “adopting” a teen participant by making a tax deductible donation of $50? Your caring generosity speaks volumes to the youth of our community. The return on your investment will be multiplied exponentially, not only financially, but physically, emotionally, and socially, resulting in young adults who have self-control and skills to develop healthy relationships, healthy marriages, and stable families, as well as positive role models and productive citizens of our community.

There are lots of ways to raise funds to help support Pure & Simple Health Education, Inc., including a novel idea from the employees of the southeast branch Sunflower Bank who collected funds from their pop machine located in the bank lobby and donated the proceeds to our organization.

On behalf of teens and parents that we serve, thank you to all our donors and volunteers. You are much appreciated!!
